In order to ensure that students complete their coursework successfully a minimum score of B1, as defined by the Council of Europe, is required in order to study at Université de Nantes.

French embassies and consulates are increasingly demanding proof of proficiency in French. Students need to verify what may be required.

Incoming exchange students at University de Nantes who wish to reserve a room in a university residence hall, must complete the “miscellaneous information” on their online application form. To increase the chances of being placed in a hall of residence, students should apply early. Students will be placed in renovated rooms (private bathroom and community kitchen – 243,45 € per month - including bills) but they will not be able to choose the residence. Upon arrival, students can purchase a bedding kit (2 sheets, 1 blanket, 1 pillow) for 15 € at the residence.

A description of the dorm and room will be sent to students upon their room confirmation. Students must pay a security deposit upon arrival (roughly one month’s rent) in the event that the room is damaged or the students fail to pay rent. If there are no problems at the end of the students’ stay, the security deposit will be returned to them within four months after their departure.

Please note that reservation periods for the residence halls are fixed as follows: Full Year: 1st working day in September – Last working day in May 1st semester: 1st working day in September – January 14

2nd semester: January 15 – Last working day in May

Reservation periods cannot be modified.

The residence halls are open Monday through Friday. Students, who wish to extend their stay from 1 semester to 2 semesters or for the summer, for academic reasons only, will be able to do so upon arrival in Nantes.
